Ms. Jenny Garrrison
Dandy Mini Marts, Inc
100 Henry Street
Sayre, PA 18840

Dear Ms. Garrison:

Re: Dandy Mini Marts, Inc. NYS Petroleum Bulk Storage (PBS) Registrations

Enclosed, the nineteen PBS Applications and check #0167017 recently submitted to this office are being returned to you unprocessed. These applications were submitted showing a change in ownership from Williams Oil Company to Dandy Mini Marts, Inc. and the check was submitted for re-registration fees. However, upon reviewing the deed information submitted with the applications and my discussion with you, it is my understanding that ownership of the properties has not changed but rather the company that owns the business at these locations. Therefore, it appears that the transactions should be treated as information corrections rather than changes of ownership for purposes of the New York State Petroleum Bulk Storage registrations.

Per the July 21, 2008 changes to the Bulk Storage law, a facility is basically defined as the real property where the tanks are located. Therefore, the "owner" is now considered to be the owner of the property where the tanks are located. The PBS regulations have not yet been updated to reflect this change. However, our program counsel informed us that the statute revisions trump the facility definition in the existing PBS regulations. Therefore, the PBS application and instructions have been revised to collect facility (property) owner information in Section A and tank owner information (new Section C).

For these nineteen PBS facilities operated by Dandy Mini Marts, Inc., if the facility (property) ownership hasn't changed since July 21, 2008, or since the last registration or renewal, whichever is later, an information correction application with no fee should be submitted to correct the facility ownership information in Section A and provide the tank ownership information in Section C. Note: for information corrections, the facility registration expiration date remains the same. The existing facility (property) owner is responsible to submit the application and deed. However, they can designate Dandy Mini Marts, Inc. to sign and submit the application on their behalf, as a duly authorized representative, responsible for the operation of the facility.
