Inactive Hazardous Waste Disposal Site Classification Notice

The Inactive Hazardous Waste Disposal Site Program (the State Superfund Program) is the State's program for identifying, investigating, and cleaning up sites where the disposal of hazardous waste may present a threat to public health and/or the environment. The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (Department) maintains a list of these sites in the Registry of Inactive Hazardous Waste Disposal Sites (the "Registry"). The site identified above was recently added to the Registry as a site that presents a significant threat to public health and/or the environment (Class 2). See map on other side for the location of the site.

The site was previously in the Voluntary Cleanup Program and then the Brownfield Cleanup Program. The Brownfield Cleanup Program site was terminated August 3, 2009.

Investigations at the site have identified significant levels of tetrachloroethene and its breakdown products in soil vapor, soil, and groundwater on the site. Contaminated groundwater also appears to be migrating off-site. Sampling at the on-site building showed elevated levels of tetrachloroethene in sub-slab vapor and indoor air. An interim remedial measure for addressing exposures in the on-site building was approved but never implemented under the Brownfield Cleanup Program.

Additional sampling is needed to define the nature and extent of contamination both on-site and off-site.

The Department will keep you informed throughout the investigation and cleanup of the site.

If you own property adjacent to this site and are renting or leasing your property to someone else, please share this information with them. If you no longer wish to be on the contact list for this site or otherwise need to correct our records, please contact the Department's Project Manager listed below.
