VCP Site# V00352-1
April 2006

J.R. Holzmacher P.E. LLC (JRH) was retained by Brookside Environmental, Inc. (Brookside) on behalf of Gibson and Cushman Dredging Co. LLC (GCD) to implement sampling activities as per the Voluntary Cleanup Interim Remedial Measure Work Plan revised July 7, 2005 (prepared by Anson Environmental LTD). The implementation of this Work Plan is pursuant to a Voluntary Cleanup Agreement (VCA) between GCD and the NYSDEC. The objective of this Work Plan is to remediate on-site contaminated surface soils through excavation and disposal off-site.

Introduction/Purpose of Work Plan

Anson Environmental Ltd. (AEL) performed limited Phase I and Phase II Environmental Site Investigations (ESIs) at 38 Homan Avenue in Bay Shore, N.Y. These investigations were conducted on behalf of the property owner, Gibson and Cushman. The Phase II investigation identified two areas of potential soil contamination due to past operations at the site. One of the identified areas of concern is located in the north parcel of the property in the area surrounding a former underground storage tank. The contaminants of concern in the north parcel include petroleum hydrocarbons and metals including zinc. The other area of concern is located on the south parcel of the property in the vicinity of former welding operations. The contaminants of concern identified in the south parcel are metals including arsenic, lead and zinc.

The AEL work plan called for the excavation and off-site disposal of affected soils in the areas not occupied by permanent structures on both the northern and southern parcels. . The excavated soils would be replaced with crushed stone.

Site Description

The NYSDEC-designated Voluntary Cleanup Site, Gibson and Cushman Dredging Co., LLC, is located at 38 Homan Avenue, Bay Shore, Suffolk County, New York. The site is approximately 1.5 acres in size and is currently owned by GCD. The property is roughly rectangular in shape, is approximately 160 feet by 450 feet in size and is divided into two parcels identified in this report as the north and south parcels, respectively. There are several buildings and other structures on the property. The site is shown on Figure 1.

The north parcel, comprising approximately 28,800 square feet, is occupied by a two-story building which houses the company offices and five portable storage containers (sea containers) at the southwestern section of the parcel and a workshop area. The east side of the parcel contains storage racks. Two maintenance shop buildings occupy the southern parcel, comprising approximately 38,400 square feet. The west and east sections of the parcel are occupied by storage racks and the steel welding area is located the northwestern section. The facility has been used to repair and store dredging equipment and boats used during dredging operations for approximately 80 years. The current property owners, GCD, have owned the property for approximately 75 years.

Previous Investigations

In 1997, Roux Associates conducted a Limited Environmental Phase II ESI of the property and in 1999 AEL conducted additional Phase II ESI activities, which included soil sampling. These investigations indicated that soils in the northern parcel have been affected by petroleum hydrocarbon contamination, and soils located in the southern parcel by metals contamination. Copies of previous environmental investigations with respect to the subject site are presented in the appendices to the AEL work plan dated July 2005.

Summary of Previous Laboratory Results at Northern Parcel

The laboratory results indicate that on the northern parcel, concentrations of petroleum hydrocarbons exceeding NYSDEC Recommended Soil Cleanup Objectives (RSCOs) were detected at one sampling location (27S5) -at all three depths sampled. The soils collected from this location were discolored and a petroleum type odor was noted during field activities.

None of the samples collected indicated concentrations of arsenic exceeding the laboratory detection limit of 6.6 mg/kg; however, nearly all of the samples collected contained concentrations of zinc that exceeded the RSCO of 20 mg/kg. Soil samples collected from locations identified as 27S1, 27S2 and 27S9 exceeded the RSCO for lead.

Summary of Previous Laboratory Results at Southern Parcel

Previous data indicate no elevated concentrations of petroleum hydrocarbons were detected in samples from the southern parcel. At least one soil sample from each location indicated concentrations of arsenic above the RSCO of 7.5 mg/kg with the exception of the samples collected from the 27MSB6 sampling location, where concentrations were all below laboratory detection limits. The concentration of lead in the sample collected from 27MSB1 at the "medium" depth (6"-12") was 802 mg/kg. The remaining samples were below the RSCO for lead. At least one soil sample from each sampling location contained concentrations of zinc that exceeded the RSCO of 20 mg/kg.

The composite sample indicated an arsenic concentration below the laboratory detection limit. The concentration of lead (261 mg/kg) was below the NYSDEC RSCO of 500 mg/kg and the concentration of zinc (421 mg/kg) exceeded the RSCO of 20 mg/kg.

Soil Excavation as per the Work Plan

Riley Excavating & Contracting Inc. of Bay Shore (Riley) was retained by GCD and conducted excavation under the observation of JRH. Excavation took place on the north parcel on March 6 and 7, 2006 and excavated soils were temporarily stockpiled on and covered by polyethylene sheeting. The majority of the excavation averaged two feet in depth. The excavation was shallowest (one-foot deep) in the vicinity of the sanitary sewer line because of concerns regarding the stability of the pipe (Figure 1). The excavation was intentionally deepened to approximately three feet in the area of the former fuel tank, as petroleum contamination (staining and odor) was evident. Groundwater was encountered at approximately two-feet below grade.

JRH personnel conducted air monitoring for VOCs and dust as required by the site-specific HASP presented in the AEL July 2005-work plan. These data are stored in JRH files and are available upon request.

JRH collected ten endpoint samples from the north parcel on March 7 under the observation of the NYSDEC. The ten samples were collected on a predetermined grid using stainless steel spoons and disposable nitrile gloves. The samples were placed on ice and shipped on March 8 to Chemtech in Mountainside, New Jersey, a NYSDOH CLP ELAP certified laboratory (NYSDOH #s 10624 and 11376). The samples were analyzed for the eight RCRA metals plus copper and zinc (EPA Method 6010/7471); volatile organic chemicals by EPA Method 8260; and PCBs by EPA Method 8082. ASP category B deliverables were requested.

Brookside was responsible for collecting and analyzing excavated soils, as necessary to obtain approval from the selected disposal facility. The stockpile samples were analyzed in accordance with the requirements of the soil disposal facility to determine if the facility was permitted to accept the waste. Sample results indicate that the soil impacts were consistent with petroleum contamination and that the material was non-hazardous.

On March 9 and 10, Riley loaded the stockpiled soil into trucks operated by Rainbow Transportation Corporation of Hackettstown, New Jersey (New Jersey Transporter #586) for recycling/disposal at Soil Safe, Inc.-Bridgeport in Logan Township, New Jersey. Waste manifests are included as Appendix A to this report.

On March 14, the northern parcel excavation was finished as the soil below the former stockpile had been removed. The total area excavated was approximately 7,500 square feet and 854.06 tons of soil was removed. Endpoint sampling for the northern parcel was completed by JRH under the observation of the NYSDEC. A total of 16 endpoint soil samples were collected from the north parcel: 12 sidewall samples; three bottom samples; and one surface sample (near the building where excavation could not take place due to structural concerns). Figure 2 shows the extent of the excavation and locations of the endpoint samples.

The southern parcel was excavated on March 14 and soils were temporarily stockpiled in the area for direct loading into trucks on March 14 and 15. The total area excavated was approximately 9,900 square feet (Figure 3) and 1,171.65 tons of soils were removed. JRH collected 18 endpoint samples under the observation of the NYSDEC: 14 were from the sidewalls and four were from the bottom of the excavation. Figure 3 shows the extent of the excavation and locations of endpoint samples for the south parcel. All samples were placed on ice and shipped to Chemtech on March 15.

Because there was evident petroleum contamination at location S-10-B (the only location on the south parcel to indicate such), GCD requested that deeper soil be removed in the area. Riley excavated additional soils in a 5-foot by 5-foot area around that point to a depth of four foot. On March 15, JRH returned to the site to collect a deeper endpoint sample at location S-10-B and this sample was labeled S-10B-2.

All endpoint samples were analyzed for the eight RCRA metals plus copper and zinc (EPA Methods 6010/7471); volatile organic chemicals (VOCs) by EPA Method 8260; and PCBs by EPA Method 8082. ASP Category B deliverables were requested.

ORC Application

A thin veneer of dark, viscous floating product was observed in the southeast corner of the open north parcel excavation. After consultation with the NYSDEC, JRH requested that this part of the excavation remain open for an ORC<sup>R</sup> application. On March 20, JRH applied 50 pounds of ORC Advanced<sup>TM</sup> powder (Batch # 800-507010/Lot # 101005) by hand to an area of approximately 190 square feet (Figure 2). ORC Advanced<sup>TM</sup> is a mixture of calcium oxyhydroxide, calcium hydroxide and calcium carbonate designed to slowly release oxygen over a period of months. There was water at the base of the excavation during the time of application and the entire base was covered with ¼ inch of ORC. JRH requested GCD to fill in the hole as soon as possible.

RESULTS

The laboratory reports have been provided under separate cover to the NYSDEC. L.A.B. Validation Corp. of East Northport, New York provided data validation services and their report and validated spreadsheets have been provided under separate cover.

Following is a brief summary of the analytical data for both the south and north parcels.

VOC Detections

South Parcel-

There were very few VOC detections in the south endpoint samples. However, there were elevated VOC detections in one bottom sample, S-10-B. Acetone and 2-butanone were both detected above their respective RSCOs. As contamination was visibly evident, this area was excavated further and sample S-10-B-2 was collected at the base of the deeper excavation. This deeper sample indicates 2-butanone still above the RSCO. Please note that other VOCs were also detected in these two samples but were below their respective RSCOs. The laboratory also identified significant concentrations of tentatively identified compounds a/k/a TICs.

North Parcel-

As for the north parcel, which has a documented history of VOC contamination, eight of the samples (1S through 5S, 10, 13B and 16S) were non-detect for all VOCs (except for trace concentrations of likely laboratory artifacts). Samples 6S and 7S (southwest endpoints) indicated elevated concentrations of TICs. Samples 8B, 9S, 11S, 12B, 14S and 15S indicated low concentrations of multiple VOCs and TICs consistent with the field observation of weathered petroleum odor and staining.

Metals

South Parcel-

Metals data for the south parcel are presented in Table 1. Consistent with previous data, there are concentrations of metals above their respective RSCOs in 15 of the 19-endpoint samples. Please note that sample S-9S contains the highest concentrations of individual metals and is located on the east sidewall of the excavation (Figure 3).

- Mercury is present above the RSCO of 0.1 ppm in 14 of the 19 samples with the highest concentrations in samples S-4S and S-9S (0.661 and 0.633 respectively).
- Arsenic and chromium each exceeded their respective RSCOs in eleven endpoint samples. The highest concentration of arsenic (43.6 ppm) was detected in sample S-2S and the highest concentration of chromium (169 ppm) was detected in S-9S.
- The highest concentrations of lead were detected in S-7S (4040 ppm) and S-9S (1020 ppm).
- Concentrations of cadmium were greater than the 1 ppm RSCO in eight samples with the highest concentration in the sample from S-9S (3.99 ppm).
- Copper and zinc concentrations are above their respective RSCOs in many of the samples.

North Parcel-

Metals data for the north parcel are presented in Table 2. Consistent with previous data, there are concentrations of metals above their respective RSCOs in 13 of the 16-endpoint samples; however, this is mostly because of zinc concentrations above the RSCO (20 ppm) in all 13 of these samples.

The two samples most affected by metals are N-3S and N-11S. N-3S is located on the northwestern sidewall of the excavation whereas N-11S is located on the southern boundary (Figure 2).

- Mercury is present above the RSCO of 0.1 ppm in 7 samples with the highest concentrations in samples N-3S and N-11S (1.3 and 1.1 ppm respectively).
- The concentration of arsenic exceeds the RSCO in two endpoint samples (N-1S and N-3S).

- The concentration of chromium exceeds the RSCO in five samples, including N-3S and N-11S.
- There was one concentration of lead above 500 ppm (N-3S at 608 ppm).
- Concentrations of cadmium were greater than the 1 ppm RSCO in three samples with the highest concentration in the sample from N-11S (5.24 ppm).
- Copper was detected above the RSCO in nine of the samples.

PCBs

The only PCB congener detected (with one minor exception) was Arochlor-1260

South Parcel-

PCBs were not detected in eleven of the 19 south endpoint samples. Concentrations below one part per million (ppm) were detected in samples S-4S, S-7S, S-16S and S-17S.

Concentrations above one ppm were detected in S-6S (2.3 ppm), S-8S (17 ppm), S-9S (20 ppm) and S-15S (32 ppm) along the eastern and western property lines.

North Parcel-

PCBs were not detected in seven of the 15 north endpoint samples. The eight detections were all below one ppm.

SUMMARY

A total of 9,725.71 tons of soil was removed from the site and total of 35 endpoint soil samples were collected for laboratory analysis for VOCs, metals and PCBs. In addition, ORC Advanced<sup>TM</sup> was applied to 190 square feet of the north parcel excavation.

CERTIFICATION

Remediation was completed in accordance with the contract documents entitled Revised Voluntary Cleanup Interim Remedial Measure Work Plan for Gibson and Cushman Dredging as Revised July 7, 2005, the Voluntary Cleanup Agreement dated October 10, 2001 and on-site discussions with NYSDEC personnel.
