State Superfund Site Classification Notice

The Inactive Hazardous Waste Disposal Site Program is New York State's superfund program for identifying, investigating, and cleaning up sites where the disposal of hazardous waste may present a threat to public health and/or the environment. The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) maintains a list of these sites in the Registry of Inactive Hazardous Waste Disposal Sites (Registry). The site identified above, and located on a map on the reverse side of this page, has been added to the Registry as a Class 2 site that presents a significant threat to public health and/or the environment for the following reason(s):

- Metals and semi-volatile organic compounds (SVOCs) have been detected in soil at levels that exceed applicable standards, criteria, and guidance. Sediment samples, taken from locations along the Chemung River riverbank, also reported metals at levels that exceed applicable standards, criteria and guidance. On-site groundwater is contaminated with boron at levels that exceed NYSDEC groundwater standards and guidance values. Glass manufacturing waste material, including ash, brick, and/or glass was also observed at the site.
- The potential exists for people that disturb soils to be exposed to site-related contaminants through direct contact. Additional investigation is recommended to further define the nature and extent of contamination on and off the site, as well as to evaluate associated current and potential human exposures.

DEC will keep you informed throughout the investigation and cleanup of the site.

If you own property adjacent to this site and are renting or leasing your property to someone else, please share this information with them. If you no longer wish to be on the contact list for this site or otherwise need to correct our records, please contact the DEC Project Manager listed below.
